POLITICAL AND OTHERWISE.

The secretary of the treasury estimates the amount now due to the military establishment, but unappropriated, at $7,000,000.

The greenbackers of Pennsylvania expect to poll not less than eighty thousand, and perhaps one hundred thousand, votes, of which Philadelphia alone will give thirty thousand.

The Witowski case, in which Ex-Congressman General Negley is conspicuous, was called in the Washington criminal court on Monday. Negley failed, however, to put in an appearance, when his bail was declared forfeited, and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. Negley is a "God-and-humanity" Radical.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer we learn that the latest novelty in Indiana politics is the rumor that "Uncle Jimmy" has patched up a bargain with Lieutenant Governor Gray whereby the former is to resign the gubernatorial office, and by the latter be appointed United States senator. We trust this is not true. The (democratic) press of the State has been too voracious to be the successor of the private of all Radicalism.

The news from every part of the Union as to the business outlook is of the most cheering and satisfactory character. The New York Herald, assigning a reason for it says: "The entire south, so recently antagonized, and exhausting the energies of her people in continuous political strife, is now in a condition of contentment and repose, and as a consequence we are entitled to look for a steady revival of the important business interests of that section of the Union."

A requisition has gone up to Washington for the arrest of Patterson. But that worthy will resist arrest, taking the ground, as the Cincinnati Enquirer's correspondent states, that as United States senator he has the privileges of minister of the United States; and that, having been elected and commissioned as senator subsequent to the time his offenses are alleged to have been committed, he cannot be brought to Columbia for trial until his term of office expires. If this plea should fail, he will fall back upon the expedient of disputing the validity of Hampton's title to the governorship, which he hopes will delay matters, and perhaps transfer his case from the State to the Federal courts.

Memphis Appeal: "The latest from Postmaster-General Key is in regard to the Conkling convention, on being interviewed about which, he said: 'If you ask me to tell what I think about the proceedings of the convention, I should frankly say that, not being politically affiliated with Mr. Conkling's party, it would not be proper for me to do so. I can understand why he should have so many staunch supporters, but then we of the other political faith must be silently courteous in our opinions of dissensions and divisions in the Republican party.' After that, anything may come. Still Key considers himself a Democrat. What will the independents and the post-office organs say to that? Won't there be howling and tearing of hair?"

REGISTRATION OF STOCKS.

The fraud committed in the overissue of the stock of the West Philadelphia passenger railway has led to a general movement in Philadelphia for the registration of shares in some place of record outside the office of the corporation, and accessible to all having a right to information. The Frankford & Southwark has made an arrangement with the Philadelphia Trust and Safe Deposit company, and the officers and directors of the Continental Line have made a similar arrangement with another trust company. Several other companies have arranged to do the same thing, and the procedure is likely to become general. The registration is not thought to be a perfect one, but is an additional safeguard against fraud, and of special value to small stockholders.

THE CLAY HOMICIDE.

THE KILLING OF PERRY WHITE BY CASSIUS M. CLAY.

The following dispatch in the Cincinnati Enquirer, dated Richmond, Ky., 30th ult., gives an account of the killing of a negro by Hon. C. M. Clay, briefly referred to in the dispatches of that date: Hon. Cassius M. Clay, formerly Minister to Russia, under President Lincoln's administration, to-day shot and killed a negro man, Perry White. The affair occurred at ten o'clock this morning, on the farm of General Clay, six miles from this place.

General Clay had in his employ as cook for some time a negro woman, the mother of Perry White. A few days ago he discovered that she had been robbing him of his silver plate, his table service, and other articles, and he discharged her. Being a very violent woman, she swore vengeance against her employer. Previous to this Perry had also been ordered from the place, being known in the neighborhood as a negro who lived by stealing, who had frequently been implicated in robberies and was otherwise notorious as a bold, daring man and desperate negro. The negro on his own account and to avenge his mother had resolved to kill Clay, and a letter written by White declaring his intention to carry out his murderous purpose was shown to Clay. The latter has anticipated trouble with the negro, and for ten days past when he went out on his farm carried his pistol with him.

This morning General Clay mounted his horse with a small white dog behind him and started to a negro church in the neighborhood, where he intended to hire a cook in the place of the one discharged. He proceeded but a short distance from his house when he saw a loose horse in a pasture near the roadside. Just as he was passing, the little boy remarked, "There is Perry White," looking in the direction of the horse, which had neither bridle or saddle on. Clay saw the negro in the act of hiding or dodging behind the animal. Knowing White had no business there, and believing that he had come for some bad purpose while all the other darkies were at church, and at once supposing that the negro intended to make an attack upon him from the cover, Clay leaped down and passing immediately in front of the horse, confronted the negro and ordered him to throw up his hands. The negro obeyed, sinking to the ground. Clay then talked to him roughly, ordering him from the place, and telling him if he moved from his position until he (Clay) got on his horse, he would kill him.

Clay then turned and started toward his horse, when the negro rose and made at Clay, at which time the latter drew his pistol and fired twice. Both balls took effect, one in the neck, and the other in the breast, and the negro fell dead. Gen. Clay immediately rode to town and gave himself into the hands of an officer of the law, and he is now in custody awaiting an examination trial, which will take place to-morrow morning.

The feeling of the community is entirely in favor of Clay, who is one of the most quiet and peaceably disposed men in the country, while the negro was known as a stout bully, a dishonest knave and an exceedingly bold and dangerous man.

A GENERAL VIEW OF THE SITUATION.

The Nation of last week, makes a summary of the financial and commercial situation of affairs. The harvests in all parts of the country fully come up to expectations, and the events of the week in Europe make it reasonably certain that to compel Europe to take all the breadstuffs which this country can spare. Very large "short sales" of wheat were made several weeks ago at Chicago and here, in the belief that the large yield would depress prices; the market was "oversold," and during last week a "corner" was made, and the price of wheat was sharply advanced. The advance stimulated the movement to the lake ports, where the receipts have been larger in a single week than they were last year in the whole month of September. Transportation business has accordingly been excellent, and thus far the water routes have derived more benefit from the increase than have the railroads. This large movement of grain has increased the demand for money the rate of which at New York has advanced to 6 to 7 per cent on call. Cotton has not yet begun to move, and later in the year currency in large amounts will be required at the south. Other branches of business than those directly concerned in the production and transportation of breadstuffs have improved, but only to a limited extent. Gold ruled during the week at 103 to 103 1/2, and at the close of the week the United States (legal tender) note for $1 had a gold value of $0.9855. At the same time the bullion in a 42 1/2 grain silver dollar would have been worth $0.9203, bar silver in London having advanced to 54 1/2 per ounce, English standard.

THE SYNDICATE AND THE FOUR PER CENTS.

It begins to appear doubtful whether the efforts of the treasury to refund the remaining 6 per cents into 4 per cents will be successful. The demand for the new bonds has fallen away considerably since the popular subscriptions were made, and at the same time the value of money is gradually increasing. The statement that the secretary of the treasury intends to place to the credit of the redemption fund the gold to be received for the $27,000,000 of 6 per cents to be called in is denied, apparently with authority. The treasury is said to consider it impracticable, as yet, to commence the accumulation of gold for redemption. The syndicate and Secretary Sherman are both declared to be dissatisfied with the progress made in placing the new 4 per cent loan. The members of the syndicate are said to have told Secretary Sherman that their recent visit to Washington that it was impossible to place the loan in Europe, on account of the war, that in this country they could not market them at par while speculators were hawking them about Wall street at 98 and that consequently they could not take any more under the present arrangement.

COAL OIL.

Look out for an advance in the price of petroleum. The negotiations between the Standard and the Conduit oil companies, which have been in progress all summer, was concluded on the 1st, by the absorption of the latter by the former. The figures are withheld. It is reported on good authority that the Standard has also purchased the Empire Transportation Company. This gives the Standard Company a monopoly of the transportation business, and will result in higher prices for oil.

GLOOMY VIEW.

State Register. Corners in wheat at Chicago, corners at Baltimore, and corners in New York, in the face of what is believed to be a greater wheat crop than ever was produced before, is thought by the New York Tribune not to be indications of a healthy and prosperous trade. It says the same thing occurred in the autumn of 1875, and resulted in a loss to the country of millions of bushels of wheat which might have been sold to Great Britain had not speculators maintained the price above the shipping point until it was too late. These speculators in products, like those in stocks, are confident that the treasury department will perform some act—legal or illegal—to prevent a tight money market. But it is to be expected that the department, profiting by the lessons taught by secretaries Boutwell and Richardson, will not delay the inevitable by interfering to save speculators from the results of the ventures. The legitimate business of the country is able to take care of itself, and wants no spasmodic aid—even if it were legal—from the government.
